WHERE CONSERVATION COMES NATURALLY

INSPIRED BY NATURE

At Asilomar, we have a deep respect for and a commitment to protecting and improving the environment. We work to reduce our environmental footprint, while delivering exceptional results. Throughout our company, we develop and implement long-term environmental stewardship programs and policies within the areas of food purchasing, supply chain, building operations, energy and water conservation, transportation, and waste management. We believe sustainability is a process and have implemented environmental management systems that foster continuous improvement.

We are also proud to hold an ISO 14001 certification for environmental performance. Our programs will help us maintain certification status and continuously improve the environmental sustainability of our business practices.

OUR COMMITMENT TO COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

We make it a priority to improve the community through volunteerism. Our members and leadership team will continue to work with non-profits in the area, including:

- Ag Against Hunger
- Elkhorn Slough Foundation
- Food Bank for Monterey County
- Habitat For Humanity Monterey County
- Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History
- Point Lobos Foundation
- Save Our Shores
