

WILLIAM F. BOLGER CENTER

Montgomery County | Maryland

Surrounded by 43 acres of beautifully landscaped grounds, lush gardens, and rolling countryside, the William F. Bolger Center is a unique and versatile destination. Established by the Sisters of Mercy in the 1930s as a convent and a school for children with learning disabilities, the property was acquired by the United States Postal Service in 1980 for use as a leadership development and training center.

Aramark began managing the center on the USPS' behalf in 2015, and it now serves a mix of about 30 percent internal business and 70 percent external clients. Our scope of services at the Bolger Center includes conference planning, catering, and facility management for a wide variety of events, including weekday conferences and weekend social events.

“I really think Bolger is the best-kept secret in (Montgomery County, Maryland). Thank you to all the staff for being SO professional, kind, attentive, detail oriented, organized...I really could sit back and enjoy the event without worrying about anything, and the few times I needed something, there was a representative right there to help. I am beyond appreciative.”
